11:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m. EST
Speaker: Lynn Esp

Credit union employees work with and handle other people's money. As a result, credit unions feel that they are entitled to obtain consumer reports on employees. When obtaining consumer reports, a credit union must comply with the Fair Credit Reporting Act and obtain the appropriate verification for consumer reports. The purpose of this seminar is to provide a credit union with the appropriate disclosures necessary to authorize a credit union to obtain consumer reports and to advise credit unions of what is and what is not allowed once reviewing the information. This seminar will provide credit unions with the appropriate documentation as well as suggest how credit unions should implement decision-making based upon consumer reports.
